Eco-social Innovations and Their Capacity to Integrate Ecological, Economic and Social Sustainability Transition

- Invited speaker: Aila-Leena Matthies
- Session chair: Pedro G. Silva

Aila-Leena Matthies: Head of the Social Sciences Unit, Department: Kokkola University Consortium Chydenius, University of Jyväskylä, Finland. Leader of the project ECOSOS.

ECOSOS: We have launched the concept of ecosocial innovations and investigate its practical implementations in five countries. We are also interested in how social work and the social security system can support activities that may be forerunners of a transition towards an ecologically, socially and economically sustainable society.
